

JobReady AI

PRODUCT DISCOVERY | Phase 1 — User Journey Map

Turning a life-ending moment into a life-changing phase — through right guidance, awareness and information.

OVERVIEW — RAHUL'S 8-WEEK JOURNEY

This map traces Rahul's experience from the day of his layoff to the point of resolution — either a job offer or a parallel path. It captures what he does, thinks and feels at each stage, where the system fails him, and exactly where JobReady AI enters and intervenes. The turning point is Week 4 — after three weeks of unguided, fruitless effort — when Rahul discovers the product at his lowest.

PHASE 1 — BEFORE JOBREADY AI | Weeks 1 – 3 | Unguided, Unstructured, Unsupported

WEEK 1

The layoff hits. Shock, silence, and the first frantic moves.

DOES	• Informs spouse and close family • Updates resume — quickly, without strategy • Registers on Naukri, LinkedIn, Indeed • Applies to 8–10 roles on Day 3 itself • Tells himself: 'I'll have something in 2 weeks'
THINKS	• I have 11 years of experience — this will be quick • I just need to get my resume out there • The market is bad but I am good enough to stand out • I should apply to as many as possible, fast
FEELS	• Shock underneath a surface of confidence • Mild adrenaline — a problem to be solved • Quietly scared but not showing it • Keeping a strong face for the family
PAIN POINTS	• No strategy — shotgun applications from Day 1 • Resume written in 2 hours with no JD alignment • No benchmark for what the market currently wants • No feedback mechanism — sends CVs into a void
JOBREADY AI	• JobReady AI not yet in the picture • Rahul does not know what he does not know

WEEK 2

Applications sent. Silence returns. The void starts to feel personal.

DOES	• Sends 15–20 more applications • Starts tweaking resume based on gut feel • Checks email obsessively — 30+ times a day • Attends one online webinar on 'How to get hired in 2024' • Reaches out to 2 ex-colleagues casually on WhatsApp

THINKS	• Why is no one responding? Is my resume the problem? • Maybe I am applying to the wrong roles • The webinar said LinkedIn is key — let me post something • My colleagues got placed quickly — why not me?
FEELS	• Confidence beginning to crack • Anxiety starting to replace adrenaline • Irritability at home — short with spouse and child • Embarrassment when relatives ask 'How is the job search going?'
PAIN POINTS	• No response = no signal = no improvement possible • Tweaking resume without data is guesswork • Casual outreach gets polite responses, no referrals • Webinar content is generic — not mapped to his profile
JOBREADY AI	• JobReady AI not yet in the picture • The silence is the problem — and there is no one to interpret it

WEEK 3

The pattern of failure sets in. Paralysis begins to replace action.

DOES	• 40+ total applications sent. 2 auto-rejection emails received • Starts applying to roles below his level — 'just to get something' • Spends evenings scrolling job portals without applying • Considers calling a recruiter but doesn't — fears being judged • Sleeps badly. Wakes at 3 AM thinking about EMLs
THINKS	• Something is wrong but I don't know what • Maybe my skills are outdated. Maybe my salary expectation is too high • Maybe I should just accept whatever comes • I don't know how much longer I can keep this up
FEELS	• Quiet despair beneath a maintained surface • Identity fracture deepening — who am I without this job? • Guilt — feels like he is letting his family down • Loneliness — cannot fully share this with anyone
PAIN POINTS	• Downward spiral: lower confidence leads to lower-quality applications • No diagnosis of the real problem — resume? skills? targeting? ATS? • Financial anxiety beginning to affect decision-making • Applying below level risks anchoring future salary expectations
JOBRADY AI	• This is Rahul's lowest point • He is one Google search away from JobReady AI

PHASE 2 — WITH JOBREADY AI | Weeks 4 – 8 | Guided, Structured, Supported

WEEK 4

Discovery and first use. The fog begins to lift.

DOES	• Finds JobReady AI via search / peer recommendation • Completes onboarding — uploads resume, sets target roles • Runs JD Analyser on 3 job descriptions • Reviews gap analysis — first time he has seen a real diagnosis • Gets first Daily Momentum Plan — 3 actions for the day
THINKS	• This is the first time something has actually told me what's wrong • I have a skills gap in X — I did not know this was visible to employers • Three actions today. That I can do. • Why did I not find this three weeks ago?
FEELS	• Relief — the uncertainty has a shape now • Cautious hope returning • Slight frustration at lost time — quickly replaced by focus • For the first time in weeks, feels like he has a direction
PAIN POINTS	• Onboarding must feel immediate — value in first 5 minutes • Gap analysis must be specific, not generic • First Momentum Plan must be achievable — not overwhelming
JOBREADY AI	• JD Analyser delivers fit score and gap analysis against his profile • Daily Momentum Generator gives 3 concrete actions • Product tone: honest, grounded, warm — not cheerful • First interaction signals: this product understands your situation

Structured effort replaces frantic activity. Quality replaces quantity.

DOES	• Applies to 6 targeted roles — each with a tailored resume • Uses Interview Question Generator for 2 target JDs • Completes first Mock Interview session — stumbles, gets feedback • Logs applications in Application Tracker • Does first deliberate LinkedIn outreach to 3 specific people
THINKS	• I am applying to fewer roles but they actually fit my profile • The mock interview was uncomfortable — but I know what to fix now • I have a record of everything I have done — I can see my own progress • This feels like work, not panic
FEELS	• Confidence rebuilding — slowly but visibly • Purposeful rather than frantic • Mild pride at the quality of applications going out • Less 3 AM anxiety — replaced by a plan for tomorrow
PAIN POINTS	• Mock interview feedback must be specific and fixable — not demoralising • Application Tracker must show progress visually — combats invisibility of effort • Outreach needs guidance — who to contact, what to say
JOBREADY AI	• Interview Question Generator produces role-specific questions from JD • Mock Interview Engine gives structured feedback with improvement actions • Application Tracker shows pipeline with AI insights on stalled applications • Daily Momentum Generator adjusts based on what is and is not working

WEEK 6

First interview callbacks arrive. Preparation becomes the differentiator.

DOES	• Receives 2 interview calls from targeted applications • Deep-dives into Interview Question Generator for both roles • Runs 3 mock interview sessions — scores improving • Tells spouse: 'I have two interviews this week' • Sleeps better — has something concrete to prepare for
THINKS	• The targeting is working — these roles actually match my profile • I know what they are going to ask — I have prepared for this specifically • I am better prepared for these interviews than any I have done before • If I do not get these, I will know exactly what to improve
FEELS	• Cautious optimism — does not want to jinx it • Nervous but prepared — different from before • Sense of agency returning — outcomes feel more within his control • The loneliness has reduced — the product is a thinking partner
PAIN POINTS	• Interview anxiety is still real — product must acknowledge and address it • Callback rate improvement validates the targeting approach
JOBREADY AI	• Interview Question Generator maps questions to specific JD requirements • Mock Interview Engine tracks improvement across sessions • Daily Momentum plan shifts to interview prep mode automatically • Application Tracker surfaces which roles are progressing

WEEKS 7 – 8

Resolution. Job offer received — or parallel path begun with confidence.

DOES	• Completes final round interviews for 1–2 roles • Receives offer — evaluates against market data from product • Negotiates confidently using salary benchmarks surfaced by JobReady AI • OR: Decides to pursue a parallel consulting / freelance path with structure • Shares the journey — recommends JobReady AI to a peer in same situation
THINKS	• I made the right decision by taking a structured approach • I know what I am worth — I am not accepting less out of fear • I wish I had found this in Week 1 — but Week 4 was not too late • I can help someone else who is where I was three weeks ago
FEELS	• Relief. Quiet pride. Gratitude. • Restored professional identity • Renewed confidence in his own capability • Peace at home — the pressure that was invisible is now visibly lifting
PAIN POINTS	• Offer evaluation must be data-backed — not emotional • Negotiation support is a high-value, underserved moment in job search
JOBREADY AI	• Salary benchmarking and offer evaluation guidance • Negotiation scripts tailored to role and company type • Milestone acknowledgement — product recognises the journey, not just the outcome • Referral prompt — Rahul becomes an advocate

The journey does not start with JobReady AI.

It starts with a layoff, a silence, and three weeks of invisible failure.

JobReady AI enters when Rahul is closest to giving up — and changes what happens next.
